Purchasing a travel insurance policy offers you some protection against the loss of your trip investment for covered reasons. Spirit is Calling does not sell travel insurance, but it is strongly recommended that you buy a policy the day you pay any money for the trip.*

A confirmation file will be available to you on our website after we receive your registration. A detailed itinerary will also be posted as soon as all details have been secured. You will be able to access more information from your Spirit is Calling leaders as they get posted on our webpage. Spirit is Calling may change the itinerary as need arises; in this event, the changes will be posted right away and you will be notified by email.

Your accommodations are booked as double occupancy. Spirit is Calling will assign a roommate for you at your request. If you wish to have a single room supplement, there will be an additional fee and you must specify your need for a single room as early as possible.

Not included on your Spiritual Journey: Airfare and Airport Taxes, costs and fees for passports, visas, immunizations, traveler's insurance, medical treatments, breakfasts, lunches and dinners unless specified. You are responsible for all of your personal expenses, baggage costs, optional excursions (unless noted) and any additional items as stated in the itinerary.

Passports and Visas: Spirit is Calling will post a link to the Embassy whenever a visa will be needed. Participants are expected to contact the embassy/consulate as appropriate, and complete their visa and any and all necessary entry documentation. Failure to complete this process shall not be accepted as a cause to void a paid journey and no refund shall be applied.

Price Changes: In the event of any unpredicted price increases, Spirit is Calling will advise the participants of the changes as soon as they are made available to us and the participant will be expected to pay the difference in the cost. Spirit is Calling will try to absorb some of the extra cost; anything above and beyond will be added to the cost of the journey.

Customs and Local Laws: Spirit is Calling will respect and follow the local customs and laws and expect all participants to do so. Should a participant deviate from such customs and laws, the said participant may be asked to leave the group and no refunds will apply.

Spirit is Calling will not be held responsible should the Spiritual Journey be canceled in full or partially due to local unrest, Act of God and/or other unpredictable incidents. Spiritual Journey participants may be asked to pay for additional expenses should the group be forced to change hotels due to local unrest, Act of God and/or other unpredictable events. There will be no refund of any unused portion of the journey. Nor will Spirit is Calling be held responsible for any expenses due to travel delays or cancellations.

Spirit is Calling may request that each participant purchase a Travel Insurance policy prior to the Spiritual Journey. Spirit is Calling will indicate whether the basic coverage is included and what it entails. The participant can then decide what extra coverage he or she might wish to add at his or her own expense.

Health and Medical: Each participant will be responsible for assessing his/hers own mental and physical abilities, health conditions prior to signing up for the Spiritual Journey. Each participant will be responsible for carrying his or her own medical supplies as needed. In no way will any of the spiritual healings, counselings and meditations substitute for medical treatments.

It is the participant's responsibility to read and understand all material provided by Spirit is Calling. Each participant will be required to attend the section of the meeting/orientation where crucial information will be given in regards to the day's activities (time of group gathering, what to bring/wear/ expect). Should the participant decide to not read the material provided, or to not attend a briefing, orientation meeting or planning workshop during the course of the Spiritual Journey, the participant may not be allowed to attend the said activity as it may delay the group departure to that day's activity.

By signing this contract I agree to all the terms specified above.
